They only learn that sex is passionate, spontaneous, and unplanned behavior. In the other hand, traditional sex education still focused only to the knowledge development and related only to the body changes.

From the community counseling approach, it came up schema and syllabus for intervention which more integrated for preventive and curative actions to help adolescents from the risks of rapid technology development in information.

REFERENCE

Introduction

- In 20th century, internet became the most popular source for information
- Besides games, pornography becomes the second facilities that user of internet were looking for (Cooper in Erdanani, Rizky)
- In Indonesia, facilities for access internet becomes a new fast growing small business. We called it “WARNET” (Warung Internet =Internet’s Café)

DATA

- Study with 50 high school students
- 43 students (86%) had accessed pornography
- 32 students (74.3%) had accessed from rental internet
- 6 students (13.9%) accessed it almost every day, and 6 students (13.9%) accessed it more than once a week

Introduction

- For adolescents, access to pornography becomes very easy, because of these Warnet existences.
- Pornography in internet for adolescents becomes attractive because it was Cheap, Easy and Private (Undercover)
DATA

- What's students' perception of pornography?
  Top three answers were:
  Sexual intercourse, Man and woman nude, Sexual pleasure
There was a positive and significant correlation between attitudes of pornography in internet with sexual behavior of adolescents ($r = 0.371$, and $p = 0.009$).

EXPLANATIONS

- Adolescent had sex impulses because of their sexual biological maturity.
- It could bring worries, stresses, guilty feelings for struggling to control these impulses
- Seeing pornography (sexual intercourse, etc.) might become addictive behavior for adolescents related to sexual pleasure, or be the only on-model for sexual behavior.

EXPLANATIONS

- Accessed to pornography via internet had impact that adolescents had perception, understanding that sexual behaviour was analogue with spontaneous (it just happens), full of passion as they usually seen it in internet
- For East Adolescents, these conditions becomes more complicated, because of the social norms (put sex as taboo, not allowing sexual active before marriage, could not speak it open, etc.)

Non Traditional Sex Education

- In traditional sex education was teaching sexual only by lecturing the anatomy of genital, reproduction organs. It could bring perspectives that sexual is merely intercourse.
- Sexual is the totality of a person-physically, spiritual, social, emotional and cultured.
- The output of these programs was building a whole understanding of sexual behavior which play important keys for adolescents' self control, self decision and self plan.

Conclusions

- Pornography in internet had attracted to adolescents because of the characteristics: easy, fast, cheap and private. But it also gave adolescents a wrong understanding of sex, and would cause only to sex arousal without self control.
- From the community counseling approach, it came up schema and syllabus for intervention which more integrated for preventive and curative actions to help adolescents from the risks of rapid technology development in information.
