GUIDELINES FOR PROCEEDINGS

CORRESPONDENCE

Due to the need for correspondence, all authors' personal contacts are required. Please provide email address, phone/mobile number, and office/home address in a separate document.

FORMAT

- All manuscripts should be typed on one side of good quality A4 papers and be double-spaced, except for indented direct quotations. All manuscripts have to be written concisely according to research subject and method, usually between 20-30 pages.
- Margins (left, right, top and bottom) should be at least one inch.
- To assure a blind review, authors should not identify themselves directly or indirectly in their papers.
- A cover page should include the title of the paper, the name(s) of author(s), position and affiliation, any acknowledgment, and footnote indicating whether the author(s) would be willing to share data. A manuscript should be sent along with a cd/file.
- All pages, including tables, appendices and references, should be serially numbered.
- Spell out numbers from one to ten, except when used in tables and lists, or mathematical, statistical, scientific or technical units and quantities, such as distance, weight and measure. For instance, four days; 5 kilometers; 25 years. All other numbers are expressed numerically. It is generally required that numbers be in written form. For example: It is approximately ten years.
- Percentage and Decimal Fraction, for non-technical purpose, use percent in text; for technical purpose, use % symbol.
- Keywords, four keywords must be provided at the end of the abstract such that they would be easier to locate in the index.

ABSTRACT

An abstract, with 100-300 words length, should be presented on a separate page immediately preceding the text of the manuscript. An abstract should be relatively non-mathematical, and provides the details about the paper's purposes, research methods and findings as well as its contributions. Neither the author's name nor his/her affiliation should appear on the abstract page.

TABLES AND FIGURES

Authors should pay attention to the following format and style:

1. When submitted for review, all tables and figures (graphs) should be written on separate pages at the end of manuscript. Each table or figure should be numerically numbered and fully titled, which refer to the contents of the table or figure.
2. References for each graph should be mentioned in manuscript without any exception.
3. Graphs should be easily interpreted without referring to the text.
4. Lines that refer to sources and notes should be included in the text.

Equations, equations should be numerically numbered in parentheses with align-right margin.

DOCUMENTATION

Manuscripts should be cited in a "author-year system." Authors should mention the pages of the referred manuscripts.

- In text, manuscripts should be cited with this way: last/family name and year in a parenthesis; example: (Andoyo, 1991), for two authors (Andoyo & Hutabarat, 1992), more than two authors (Andoyo et al., 1993), two manuscripts or more by one author (Andoyo, 1991, 1993).
- To avoid ambiguity, do not use "P", "pp", or "page" before the page number but use colon: for example: (Andoyo, 1991: 121).
- If there are more than one reference written by the same author and in a same issue, use suffix a, b, and so forth after year in a citation; example: (Andoyo, 1991a) or (Andoyo, 1991a; Hutabarat 1992b).
- If an author's name is mentioned in a text, it is unnecessary to be mentioned again in reference, example: "Andoyo(1991: 121) said ..."
- A quotation that refers to institutional work should use acronym or abbreviation; example: (Komite SAK-IAI, PSAK28, 1997).

REFERENCES

Each manuscript should include references which contain referred texts. Each entry should contain all required data.

Use the following format:

1. To assure the validity of the references, make sure that the references provide adequate information (e.g., volume, number, page, publisher, city, URL address and accessed date)
2. For any non-English articles, please write down the translation of the article in brackets [] after the original article's title. Note that the original article should be written in italic.
3. Arrange references alphabetically according to last/family name of the first author or institution.
4. Use initial name for author's first name.
5. Issue year should be placed after author's name
6. Manuscript's title should not be shortened
7. If there are two or more manuscripts by the same author referred in the article, arrange chronologically according to the year of issue. Two or more manuscripts by the same author should be distinguished with a letter (a, b, c, etc.) immediately preceding date.
