ABSTRACT

The 2024-2025 Trend Forecast "Future Terrains" focuses on the use of sustainable and renewable natural resources. Based on the trend forecast, the collection took inspiration from the receding Dead Sea. The Dead Sea, which is an important body of water as well as an attraction for foreign tourists, continues to shrink, bringing difficulties to the surrounding community in the form of water scarcity and sinkhole hazards. The purpose of this research is to apply the inspirations of the receding Dead Sea, namely gloomy, wavy, circular, rough, and concerned, into a fashion collection. These keywords were obtained after selecting the right theme and conducting quantitative analysis through questionnaires on the theme. The right theme was obtained by comparing several existing trend forecasts. The visualization of this inspiration was realized through experiments namely quilting pattern, single edge ruffle, box pleats pocket, macrame, slashing, and tie dye on the fabric. Based on the experiments conducted, it is known that the visualization of "The Impact of the Receding Dead Sea" got 5 designs that will be realized, namely 3 clothing designs for adult men and 2 clothing designs for women. The selected clothing has a suitable shape and style, namely modern casual grunge. On each side of the design, both in the selection of materials and colors, the emotions or feelings from the keywords can be felt. The collection produced a visual of the dead sea that was depicted through textile manipulation in the form of macrame, slashing, and tie dye so that it became a prominent thing in the collection.

Keyword: Circular, concerned, dead sea, gloomy, harsh, wavy.
